

In the Divine Liturgy, on weekdays without a Great Doxology, the first choir begins the first antiphon after the Great Litany. Amen.

FIRST ANTIPHON. PSALM 91.

Verse. It is a good thing to give thanks unto the Lord, and to sing praises unto thy name, O most High.

Through the intercessions of the Theotokos, Saviour, save us.

Verse. To shew forth thy lovingkindness in the morning, and thy faithfulness every night.

Through the intercessions of the Theotokos, Saviour, save us.

Verse. To shew that the Lord is upright and there is no unrighteousness in him.

Through the intercessions of the Theotokos, Saviour, save us.

Glory to the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit; both now and ever and unto the ages of ages. Amen.

Through the intercessions of the Theotokos, Saviour, save us.

The deacon offers the small ektene:

Again and again, in peace...

The second choir: Lord, have mercy.

The deacon: Help us, save us...

The choir: Lord, have mercy.

The deacon: Calling to remembrance...

The choir: To Thee, O Lord.

The priest: For Thine is the dominion...

And the first choir begins the second antiphon. Amen.

SECOND ANTIPHON. PSALM 92.

Verse. The Lord reigneth, he is clothed with majesty; the Lord is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself.

Through the intercessions of Thy saints, save us, O Lord.

Verse. The world also is stablished, that it cannot be moved.

Through the intercessions of Thy saints, save us, O Lord.

Verse. Holiness becometh thine house, O Lord, for ever.

Through the intercessions of Thy saints, save us, O Lord.

Glory to the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit.

Through the intercessions of Thy saints, save us, O Lord.

Both now and ever, and unto the ages of ages. Amen.

Only-begotten Son and Word of God, Thou Who art immortal, and didst deign for our salvation to become incarnate of the holy Theotokos and Ever-virgin Mary, without change becoming man, and Who wast crucified, O Christ God, trampling down death by death: Thou Who art one of the Holy Trinity, glorified together with the Father and the Holy Spirit, save us.

The deacon offers the small ektene:

Again and again, in peace...

The choir: Lord, have mercy.

The deacon: Help us, save us...

The choir: Lord, have mercy.

The deacon: Calling to remembrance...

The choir: To Thee, O Lord.

The priest: For a good and man-befriending God art Thou...

And the first choir begins the third antiphon. Amen.

THIRD ANTIPHON. PSALM 94.

Verse. O come, let us sing unto the Lord: let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation.

Save us, O Son of God, Who art wondrous in Thy saints, who chant to Thee: Alleluia.

Verse. Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto him with psalms. For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods.

Save us, O Son of God, Who art wondrous in Thy saints, who chant to Thee: Alleluia.

Verse. In his hand are the deep places of the earth: the strength of the hills is his also. The sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land.

Save us, O Son of God, Who art wondrous in Thy saints, who chant to Thee: Alleluia.

ENTRANCE.

Choir, O come, let us worship and bow down to Christ.

Save us, O Son of God, Who art wondrous in Thy saints, who chant to Thee: Alleluia.

AFTER THE COMMUNION HYMN.

Reader, Amen, amen, amen. Blessed is He that cometh in the Name of the Lord. God is the Lord, and hath appeared unto us.

OF THY MYSTIC Supper, O Son of God, receive me today as a partaker; for I will not speak of the Mystery to Thine enemies; nor will I give Thee a kiss as did Judas; but like the thief do I confess Thee: Remember me, O Lord, in Thy kingdom. Remember me, O Master, in Thy kingdom. Remember me, O Holy One, when Thou comest into Thy kingdom.

Priest, Save, O God Thy people, and bless Thine inheritance.

Choir, We have seen the true Light. We have received the Heavenly Spirit. We have found the true faith, in worshipping the indivisible Trinity; for He hath saved us.

Priest, Always, now and ever, and unto the ages of ages.

Reader (chyma), Amen.

LET MY MOUTH be filled with thy praise, O Lord, that I may hymn thy glory, for thou hast deemed us worthy to partake of thy holy mysteries; establish us in thy sanctification, meditating on thy righteousness all the day long. Alleluia, alleluia, alleluia.
